

FINAL EXAM

UNITED STATES HISTORY AND GOVERNMENT

Thursday, May 28, 2026 and Friday, May 29, 2026

Student Name _____

School Name _____

The possession or use of any communications device is strictly prohibited when taking this examination. If you have or use any communications device, no matter how briefly, your examination will be invalidated and no score will be calculated for you.

Print your name and the name of your school on the lines above. A separate answer sheet for Part I has been provided to you. Follow the instructions from the proctor for completing the student information on your answer sheet. Then fill in the heading of each page of your essay booklet.

This examination has three parts. You are to answer all questions in all parts. Use black or dark-blue ink to write your answers to Parts II, III A, and III B.

Part I contains 28 multiple-choice questions. Record your answers to these questions as directed on the answer sheet.

Part II has been omitted from this exam.

Part III is based on several documents:

Part III A contains the documents. When you reach this part of the test, enter your name and the name of your school on the first page of this section.

Each document is followed by one question. Write your answer to each question in this examination booklet on the lines following that question.

Part III B contains one essay question based on the documents.

Part I

Answer all questions in this part.

Directions (1–28): For each statement or question, record on your separate answer sheet the number of the word or expression that, of those given, best completes the statement or answers the question.

Base your answers to questions 1 and 2 on the excerpt below and on your knowledge of social studies.

. . . Lastly, whereas you are become a body politic [group of citizens], using amongst yourselves civil government, and are not furnished with any persons of special eminency [rank] above the rest, to be chosen by you into office of government; let your wisdom and godliness appear, not only in choosing such persons as do entirely love and will promote the common good, but also in yielding unto them all due honor and obedience in their lawful administrations. . . .

Source: John Robinson, Farewell Address to the Pilgrims, August 5, 1620 (adapted)

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 Based on this excerpt, what is the author's point of view about the role of government in the Plymouth Colony? <ul style="list-style-type: none">(1) Separate leaders for church and state should be elected.(2) People have the right to rebel against the government.(3) The power to govern belongs to the people.(4) Rulers must be given absolute authority to govern. | 2 Which document most closely reflects the ideas about government expressed by John Robinson in this address? <ul style="list-style-type: none">(1) Mayflower Compact(2) Maryland Toleration Act(3) Stamp Act(4) Townshend Acts |
|---|---|

Base your answers to questions 3 and 4 on the passage below and on your knowledge of social studies.

Centinel, no. 5

Fall 1787

... But the convention has superadded another power, by which the congress may stamp with the sanction of the constitution every possible law; it is contained in the following clause—"To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this constitution in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof." Whatever law congress may deem necessary and proper for carrying into execution any of the powers vested in them, may be enacted; and by virtue of this clause, they may controul [control] and abrogate [abolish] any and every of the laws of the state governments, on the allegation that they interfere with the execution of any of their powers, and yet these laws will "be made in pursuance [fulfillment] of the constitution," and of course will "be the supreme law of the land, and the judges in every state shall be bound thereby, any thing in the constitution or laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding."

Source: Samuel Bryan, 1787; Herbert J. Storing, ed., The Complete Anti-Federalist, University of Chicago Press, 1981 (adapted)

- | | |
|--|--|
| 3 This passage was written during the <ul style="list-style-type: none">(1) debate over the adoption of the Articles of Confederation(2) ratification of the United States Constitution(3) nullification crisis in Virginia and Kentucky(4) controversy over the War of 1812 | 4 Which claim about the proposed United States Constitution is being made by the author of this passage? <ul style="list-style-type: none">(1) The new Constitution gave the states enough power to avoid tyranny.(2) The elastic clause would give too much power to Congress.(3) The system of federalism is best for the new nation.(4) The two-party system would lead to rebellion in the future. |
|--|--|
-

Base your answers to questions 5 and 6 on the passage below and on your knowledge of social studies.

. . . It will relieve the whole State of Mississippi and the western part of Alabama of Indian [Native American] occupancy, and enable those States to advance rapidly in population, wealth, and power. It will separate the Indians from immediate contact with settlements of whites; free them from the power of the States; enable them to pursue happiness in their own way and under their own rude [basic] institutions; will retard [slow] the progress of decay, which is lessening their numbers, and perhaps cause them gradually, under the protection of the Government and through the influence of good counsels, to cast off their savage habits and become an interesting, civilized, and Christian community. . . .

Source: President Andrew Jackson, Message to Congress on Indian Removal, 1830

- | | |
|---|--|
| 5 Which statement best describes the claims made by President Andrew Jackson in this passage? <ul style="list-style-type: none">(1) The United States government must obey past treaties made with Native Americans.(2) White settlers must work harder to get along with Native Americans.(3) Native Americans had agreed to assimilate into American society.(4) The relocation of Native Americans will assist both them and white settlers. | 6 What was one result of President Jackson's message to Congress? <ul style="list-style-type: none">(1) Trail of Tears(2) annexation of Texas(3) Dred Scott decision(4) Grange Movement |
|---|--|
-

Base your answers to questions 7 and 8 on the certificate below and on your knowledge of social studies.

asc

HOMESTEAD.

Land Office at Bromville Neb
January 20th 1868.

CERTIFICATE, } No. 1	} APPLICATION, No. 1
--------------------------------	--------------------------------

It is hereby certified, That pursuant to the provisions of the act of Congress, approved May 20, 1862, entitled "An act to secure homesteads to actual settlers on the public domain,"

Daniel Freeman has made payment in full for 8 1/4 of NW 1/4 of NW 1/4 and SW 1/4 of NE 1/4 of Section Twelve Six (26) in Township four 41 N
of Range five (5) E containing 160 acres.

Now, therefore, be it known, That on presentation of this Certificate to the COMMISSIONER OF THE GENERAL LAND OFFICE, the said Daniel Freeman shall be entitled to a Patent for the Tract of Land above described.

Henry M. Atkinson Register.

Source: Homestead Certificate for Daniel Freeman, 1868

7 This certificate supports a national commitment to what policy?

- (1) Monroe Doctrine
- (2) isolationism
- (3) Manifest Destiny
- (4) détente

8 What area of the United States was most affected by the program described in this document?

- (1) the Southwest deserts
- (2) the Great Plains
- (3) the Hudson Valley
- (4) the Pacific Northwest

Base your answers to questions 9 and 10 on the trial excerpt below and on your knowledge of social studies.

... we think the enforced separation of the races, as applied to the internal commerce of the state, neither abridges the privileges or immunities of the colored man, deprives him of his property without due process of law, nor denies him the equal protection of the laws, within the meaning of the fourteenth amendment . . .

Source: Plessy v. Ferguson, 1896

- | | |
|---|--|
| 9 Which phrase is most closely associated with the ideas expressed in this excerpt? <ul style="list-style-type: none">(1) “separate but equal”(2) “clear and present danger”(3) “all men are created equal”(4) “necessary and proper” | 10 What was an effect of the Supreme Court’s decision in Plessy v. Ferguson? <ul style="list-style-type: none">(1) The Freedmen’s Bureau was established.(2) The Underground Railroad was formed.(3) The practice of segregation was reinforced.(4) Voting rights were enhanced by grandfather clauses. |
|---|--|

Base your answers to questions 11 and 12 on the photograph below and on your knowledge of social studies.

Source: Jacob Riis, How the Other Half Lives, 1890

- | | |
|--|---|
| 11 The purpose of this photograph was to <ul style="list-style-type: none">(1) raise public awareness for conditions in the tenements(2) support unrestricted immigration(3) expose the unsafe working conditions in factories(4) promote the use of child labor | 12 Individuals who were influenced by the work of Jacob Riis would most likely agree that <ul style="list-style-type: none">(1) federal income taxes should be eliminated(2) monopolistic business practices should be encouraged(3) labor unions should be banned(4) social and economic reforms should be addressed by the government |
|--|---|

Base your answers to questions 13 and 14 on the photographs below and on your knowledge of social studies.

USS Maine, photographed circa 1895-98

Source: J.S. Johnston (adapted)

U.S. Navy diving crew at work in 1898 on the wreck of the USS Maine

Source: U.S. Naval History and Heritage Command, 1898 (adapted)

- 13 Photographs such as these were often published to
- (1) increase newspaper sales
 - (2) discourage investigative journalists
 - (3) support restrictions on the freedom of the press
 - (4) pressure reporters to reveal their sources

- 14 What was one outcome of the destruction of the USS Maine?
- (1) Spanish officials responsible for the destruction were put on trial.
 - (2) Spain strengthened its control over Cuba.
 - (3) Public support for a declaration of war against Spain increased.
 - (4) Spain paid to rebuild the ship and compensate the victims.

Base your answers to questions 15 and 16 on the passage below and on your knowledge of social studies.

... The large corporations, commonly called trusts, though organized in one State, always do business in many States, often doing very little business in the State where they are incorporated. There is utter lack of uniformity in the State laws about them; and as no State has any exclusive interest in or power over their acts, it has in practice proved impossible to get adequate regulation through State action. Therefore, in the interest of the whole people, the Nation should, without interfering with the power of the States in the matter itself, also assume power of supervision and regulation over all corporations doing an interstate business. This is especially true where the corporation derives a portion of its wealth from the existence of some monopolistic element or tendency in its business. There would be no hardship in such supervision; banks are subject to it. . . .

Source: President Theodore Roosevelt, First Annual Message to Congress, 1901

- | | |
|--|---|
| 15 Which constitutional provision supports President Theodore Roosevelt's view regarding large corporations? <ul style="list-style-type: none">(1) reserved powers of the states(2) presidential veto(3) eminent domain(4) congressional power to regulate interstate commerce | 16 Which United States economic policy did President Roosevelt's message challenge? <ul style="list-style-type: none">(1) mercantilism(2) laissez-faire(3) protectionism(4) supply-side |
|--|---|

- 16 Which United States economic policy did President Roosevelt's message challenge?
- (1) mercantilism
 - (2) laissez-faire
 - (3) protectionism
 - (4) supply-side

Base your answer to question 19 on the poster below and on your knowledge of social studies.

Source: Social Security Board, 1936

19 The purpose of this 1936 poster was to encourage Americans to

- (1) sign up for government jobs
- (2) receive low-cost medical insurance
- (3) enroll in a national retirement system
- (4) exercise their right to vote in national elections

Base your answer to question 20 on the passage below and on your knowledge of social studies.

. . . The privilege of opening the first trial in history for crimes against the peace of the world imposes a grave responsibility. The wrongs which we seek to condemn and punish have been so calculated, so malignant, and so devastating, that civilization cannot tolerate their being ignored, because it cannot survive their being repeated. That four great nations, flushed with victory and stung with injury stay the hand of vengeance and voluntarily submit their captive enemies to the judgment of the law is one of the most significant tributes that Power has ever paid to Reason. . . .

Source: Justice Robert H. Jackson, Opening Statement, Nuremberg Trials, November 21, 1945

20 The purpose of the Nuremberg Trials referred to in this passage was to

- (1) force Germany to pay war reparations
- (2) punish Germany for the blitzkrieg military campaign through Europe
- (3) warn the German people about the Nazi party
- (4) hold German leaders accountable for crimes against humanity

Base your answer to question 21 on the map below and on your knowledge of social studies.

Source: Thomas A. Bailey, A Diplomatic History of the American People,
Prentice-Hall, 1974 (adapted)

21 What was the United States response to the situation shown on this map?

- (1) providing financial aid to Western European nations
- (2) immediate military action against the Soviet Union
- (3) a call for the United Nations to send forces to Eastern Europe
- (4) withdrawal of financial support for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO)

Base your answer to question 22 on the excerpts below and on your knowledge of social studies.

. . . I have here in my hand a list of 205—a list of names that were made known to the Secretary of State as being members of the Communist Party and who nevertheless are still working and shaping policy in the State Department. . . .

Source: Joseph McCarthy, Address in Wheeling, West Virginia, February 9, 1950

. . . Those of us who shout the loudest about Americanism in making character assassinations are all too frequently those who, by our own words and acts, ignore some of the basic principles of Americanism—

The right to criticize.

The right to hold unpopular beliefs.

The right to protest.

The right of independent thought. . . .

Source: Margaret Chase Smith, Declaration of Conscience, June 1, 1950

22 A historian would find these excerpts useful for studying the

- (1) impact of the Red Scare on civil liberties
 - (2) opposition to New Deal reforms
 - (3) debates over international affairs
 - (4) concerns over executive cabinet appointments
-

Base your answers to questions 23 and 24 on the cartoon below and on your knowledge of social studies.

“Tsk Tsk—Somebody Should Do Something About That”

Source: Herblock, Washington Post, April 3, 1956 (adapted)

- 23 This cartoonist is criticizing President Dwight D. Eisenhower for failing to
- (1) provide government support for public housing
 - (2) promote equality for African Americans
 - (3) address natural disasters in the South
 - (4) enforce strict public safety measures
- 24 In 1957, President Eisenhower dealt with a civil rights crisis in Little Rock, Arkansas, by sending troops to
- (1) enforce a Supreme Court decision on school integration
 - (2) protect freedom riders on interstate buses
 - (3) arrest leaders of the Ku Klux Klan
 - (4) stop the violence during voter registration drives
-

Base your answer to question 25 on the excerpt below and on your knowledge of social studies.

. . . In recent months, members of my Administration and officials of the Committee for the Re-Election of the President—including some of my closest friends and most trusted aides—have been charged with involvement in what has come to be known as the Watergate affair. These include charges of illegal activity during and preceding the 1972 Presidential election and charges that responsible officials participated in efforts to cover up illegal activity. . . .

Source: President Richard M. Nixon, Address to the Nation, April 30, 1973

25 What was one outcome associated with the Watergate affair?

- (1) The Vietnam War continued to expand.
 - (2) Trade with China expanded rapidly.
 - (3) Support for immigration reform increased.
 - (4) President Nixon eventually resigned from the presidency.
-

Base your answer to question 26 on the cartoon below and on your knowledge of social studies.

Source: Jack Ohman, The Oregonian, January 1992

26 Which statement is best supported by the idea expressed in this cartoon?

- (1) War powers are divided equally between the executive and legislative branches.
- (2) The legislative branch has refused to exercise its war powers.
- (3) The war powers of the executive branch have expanded.
- (4) The war powers of the executive branch are often checked by the judicial branch.

Base your answers to questions 27 and 28 on the cartoon below and on your knowledge of social studies.

Source: Dana Summers, Tribune Content Agency, 2015

27 Which problem is represented in this cartoon?

- (1) Americans were confused by the wording of the new law.
- (2) The Patriot Act did not apply to enough people in the United States.
- (3) The Patriot Act, while keeping the nation safe, would violate the rights of individuals.
- (4) Individuals were concerned that the Patriot Act did not make the nation safe enough.

28 Which event most directly led to the passage of the Patriot Act?

- (1) Iraq's invasion of Kuwait
- (2) end of the Cold War
- (3) Soviet launching of Sputnik
- (4) terrorist attacks on the United States on September 11, 2001

Part III

CIVIC LITERACY ESSAY (Questions 29–35)

This Civic Literacy Essay Question is based on the accompanying documents. The question is designed to test your ability to work with historical documents. Some of these documents have been edited for the purpose of this question. As you analyze the documents, take into account the source of each document and any point of view that may be presented in the document. Keep in mind that the language and images used in a document may reflect the historical context of the time in which it was created.

Historical Context: Rights of Native Americans

Throughout United States history, many constitutional and civic issues have been debated by Americans. These debates have resulted in efforts by individuals, groups, and governments to address these issues. These efforts have achieved varying degrees of success. One of these constitutional and civic issues is the rights of Native Americans.

Task: Read and analyze the documents in Part A. Using information from the documents and your knowledge of United States history, answer the questions that follow each document in Part A. Your answers to the questions will help you write the Part B essay in which you will be asked to

- Describe the historical circumstances surrounding this constitutional or civic issue
- Explain efforts by individuals, groups, and/or governments to address this constitutional or civic issue
- Discuss the impact of the efforts on the United States and/or on American society

In developing your answers to Part III, be sure to keep these general definitions in mind:

- (a) describe means “to illustrate something in words or tell about it”
- (b) explain means “to make plain or understandable; to give reasons for or causes of; to show the logical development or relationships of”
- (c) discuss means “to make observations about something using facts, reasoning, and argument; to present in some detail”

Civic Literacy Essay

Part A

Short-Answer Questions (29–34)

Directions: Analyze the documents and answer the short-answer questions that follow each document in the space provided.

Document 1

U.S.–Native American Treaties

Virtually all inhabitable land in North America was occupied by Native Americans when Europeans arrived. By the 1990s, Indian [Native American] reservations in the United States represented about 2.5 percent of the country. A study of treaties reveals the changing nature of Indian and white relations. . . .

Between 1778 and the early 1800s, federal power over Indians expanded dramatically, especially in the eastern states. Eventually all tribes came to be regarded as quasi-sovereign peoples, not national equals. This view led to diminished tribal control over their destiny, their increasing exploitation, and federal paternalism. Tribes came to be regarded as dependent nations, and treaties were considered in the same light as other statutes of the U.S. Congress. It may come as a surprise that, despite military conflicts between the federal government and various tribes, the United States never formally declared war on hostile Indians.

Treaties with Indians were negotiated by the president of the United States and were binding when approved by the Indians and two-thirds of the U.S. Senate. It is important to note that a treaty could not provide funds for Indians; monetary commitments required separate congressional action. Nearly 400 treaties were negotiated. The greatest number, nearly 260, were arranged during the great westward expansion of white settlers following the War of 1812. The majority of these treaties, 230, involved Indian lands. A block of 76 treaties called for Indian removal from their lands and resettlement on other lands. Two tribes, the Potawatomi and Ojibwa (Chippewa), negotiated 42 treaties each, a record number. . . .

Source: Wendell H. Oswalt, This Land Was Theirs: A Study of Native North Americans, Eighth Edition, 2006

- 29 According to Wendell H. Oswalt, what is one historical circumstance surrounding the rights of Native Americans? [1]

Score

Document 2

The West and Native Americans, 1860–1890

Source: Mary Beth Norton et al., A People and a Nation, Houghton Mifflin and Robert A. Divine et al., America: Past and Present, HarperCollins (adapted)

30 Based on this document, what was one effect of westward settlement on Native Americans? [1]

Score

Document 3

Selected Events in Native American Relations with the United States

1879	Carlisle Indian Industrial School founded
1887	Dawes Severalty Act allotted reservation lands to individual Native Americans
1924	Indian Citizenship Act granted United States citizenship to indigenous Americans
1934	Indian Reorganization Act attempted to reverse the impact of the Dawes Act by restoring land to reservations
1968	AIM (American Indian Movement) founded to ensure past treaties made with the United States honored; AIM occupied Alcatraz Island in 1969 and headquarters of the Bureau of Indian Affairs in 1972
1970	President Nixon called for a new era of self-determination for Native American peoples
1988	Indian Gaming Regulatory Act affirmed the right of Native Americans to conduct gaming operations (casinos, etc.) on tribal lands
2009	President Obama established White House Tribal Nations Conference to encourage dialogue between government and tribal leaders

Source: Kathy Weiser, ed., "Native American Timeline of Events," Legends of America online (adapted)

31 Based on this document, what is one effort to address the rights of Native Americans? [1]

Score

Document 4a

. . . While some steps have been taken to undo damage to Native American religious liberties and to sacred places, most remain threatened by extractive minerals production from gold to uranium and the runoff poisons used to mine them; by commercial and recreational development from strip malls to ski resorts; by housing and highway expansion from acceleration lanes to landfills; by dams and urban sprawl that dry up water resources and deplete the water tables; and by munitions storage, bombing ranges, and other military activity. One sacred place—a ceremonial, burial, and historic site of one Native nation—is even being buried by the construction of a casino and hotel resort of another tribe. . . .

Federal-tribal agreements have been entered into for return of ownership and/or control of sacred places, for joint management or co-stewardship, or for other kinds of protections. Some of these legislative, administrative, or judicial agreements have been in place and working to the satisfaction of all parties for over 40 years. While details of these agreements are a matter of public record, information about some locations is not available, in order to prevent future violations. . . .

Source: Suzan Shown Harjo, "Threatened and Damaged: Protecting Sacred Places," Expedition Magazine, Penn Museum, Vol. 55, Issue 3, 2013

Document 4b

. . . Montana's Indian Education for All Act [1999] is generally regarded as the most thorough attempt by any state to integrate teaching about the state's Native American tribes into the curriculum of public schools.

The law had its origins in the state's 1972 constitution, which included a provision stating that Montana "recognizes the distinct and unique cultural heritage of the American Indian and is committed in its educational goals to the preservation of their cultural heritage." . . .

Educators hope both that Montanans gain a greater appreciation of a significant part of their state's history and population, and that Native American students will feel more at home in the public school system and will see their own cultures recognized and celebrated.

Source: CQ Researcher, April 24, 2015, Volume 25, Number 16

- 32 Based on these documents, state one impact of the efforts to restore Native American history and culture. [1]

Score

Document 5a

. . . The Standing Rock Sioux tribe has opposed the Dakota Access Pipeline since first learning about plans for the pipeline in 2014. But it's only been in recent months that the issue has gained national attention, as thousands of protesters—including many Native Americans—have gathered in North Dakota in attempt to block the 1,200-mile project. And, with both supporters and opponents vowing to fight through the harsh North Dakota winter, the battle shows no signs of ending anytime soon. . . .

Source: Justin Worland, "What to Know About the Dakota Access Pipeline Protests," Time, October 28, 2016

Document 5b

Washington tribes stand with Standing Rock Sioux against North Dakota oil pipeline

. . . Tribes from across Washington and the Northwest have journeyed to remote Cannon Ball, N.D., to join the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe in a peaceful occupation of ancestral lands where the tribe seeks an injunction to stop construction of an oil pipeline until its waters and cultural resources are protected. . . .

Source: Seattle Times online, September 1, 2016

- 33 Based on these documents, what was one effort to protect the rights of Native Americans in North Dakota? [1]

Score

Document 6

A 2017 North Dakota voter identification law required that voters present identification displaying a street address, not just a post office box. Street addresses are not common on reservations.

A controversial new voter ID law in North Dakota made casting a ballot more difficult for thousands of Native Americans living on reservations in the state this year [2018]. But in the face of a law critics called “plainly unconstitutional,” Native Americans in parts of North Dakota appeared to turn out to vote in record numbers in Tuesday’s 2018 midterm elections. . . .

Proponents of the law argued it would reduce voter fraud, but voting rights advocates have warned it would systemically disenfranchise thousands of Native American voters. And activists on the ground Tuesday said there was a lot of confusion at the polls, describing instances of voters being turned away because poll workers did not accept tribal identification letters or because of discrepancies with their addresses. . . .

Alexis Davis, a 19-year-old member of the Turtle Mountain youth council, helped lead get-out-the-vote efforts on the reservation during the past few days, though she was not particularly involved in politics before this election.

“But then this voter ID law came, and then I was paying attention, and then I started seeing quotes about how this election is so important and this election is going to make history,” she says. “They were trying to take a right away from us. It made us want to go in there and vote twice as much and make a statement.”

Source: Katie Reilly, “A New North Dakota Law Threatened Native American Votes. They Responded by Turning Out in Historic Numbers,” Time, November 7, 2018

34 According to Katie Reilly, what is one impact of the 2017 voter identification law on Native Americans? [1]

Score

Part B

Civic Literacy Essay Question (35)

Directions: Write a well-organized essay that includes an introduction, several paragraphs, and a conclusion. Use evidence from at least four documents in the body of the essay. Support your response with relevant facts, examples, and details. Include additional outside information.

Historical Context: Rights of Native Americans

Throughout United States history, many constitutional and civic issues have been debated by Americans. These debates have resulted in efforts by individuals, groups, and governments to address these issues. These efforts have achieved varying degrees of success. One of these constitutional and civic issues is the rights of Native Americans.

Task: Using information from the documents and your knowledge of United States history, write an essay in which you

- Describe the historical circumstances surrounding this constitutional or civic issue
- Explain efforts by individuals, groups, and/or governments to address this constitutional or civic issue
- Discuss the impact of the efforts on the United States and/or on American society

Guidelines:

In your essay, be sure to

- Develop all aspects of the task
- Explain at least two efforts to address the issue
- Incorporate information from at least four documents
- Incorporate relevant outside information
- Support the theme with relevant facts, examples, and details
- Use a logical and clear plan of organization, including an introduction and a conclusion that are beyond a restatement of the theme